General description:

The parties are involved in a permanent collaboration partnership, in which they together determine how and why personal data is being processed. To comply with the General Data Processing Regulation (GDPR), this agreement defines how organize share and process personal data.

The main goals and main activities in the project are:

to increase the commercial potential and achieve the best collaboration

The category of data subjects / the group of people to whom the data relates is:

customers, candidates, users, students, commercial and industrial activities, administrative functions

Obligations

All parties are aware of the General Data Protection Regulation and will endeavor to meet all requirements of the GDPR.

Each party will make sure that data subjects receive the required information (as described in article 13 and 14 of the GDPR) when personal data is collected by that party. They will make sure that data subjects have the name of the controller, the data protection officer, the purposes of data processing, the legal basis for processing and who receives the data. This can for instance be done in a privacy statement.

GDPR Joint Controllership Agreement

Each party agrees to take reasonable, appropriate technical and organizational measures to protect the personal data, so that the risk of data breaches is minimized.

Each party will inform all other parties immediately in the case of a serious information security incident. This way, each party can determine if the serious information security incident is a data breach that must be reported. Parties will keep each other informed whether they have reported the data breach as the controlling party, and if and how they have informed data subjects.

Each party will make sure that data subjects can make a request to exercise their GDPR rights, including the right of access to data, rectification, erasure, restriction of processing and data portability if applicable.

Whenever a party receives a GDPR request from a data subject, it will inform all other parties of the request. All parties will then work together so that the request is fully and completely handled. The first party receiving the request will communicate with the data subject.

If one party is audited by their supervisory authority (e.g. the Autoriteit Persoonsgegevens) for a joint activity, the other parties will support the audited party, for instance by providing information that is requested by the supervisory authority.
